

Full Name	REV DR ELIO CAPRA SDB
Bio	A Salesian priest. Worked in schools for many years. Now Lecturer in Liturgy and sacramental theology at Catholic Theological College and at Australian Catholic University. Written extensively on the RCIA.
Title	The Mass is not over until we deliver the casserole
Brief Description	The words of the title come from an intellectually disabled child who was being prepared to receive Eucharist. The presentation will explore how the symbols, the words and the rituals of the Eucharist send us forth to mission.
Overview	The presentation will make use of the sacrament of marriage as a model and pattern of the Eucharist. Like marriage, the celebration of the Eucharist is intrinsically linked to our life. We bring to the Eucharist our life, we celebrate it and then we are sent out to live what we have celebrated. These three moments will be explored with a particular emphasis on how the Eucharist sends us out to be the body of Christ for our brothers and sisters and for the world.
