Title	Ars Celebrandi: Exploring a theology and Spirituality of Ministerial Action.
Brief Description	Rather than simply presenting a series of skills every presider ought have in their repertoire the workshop will also explore some basic spiritual and theological underpinnings of 'ministerial action'.
Overview	Liturgical celebration is an art that can be learned, and one that must be adapted to many and varied circumstances. It is an art that cannot be presumed or reduced simply to a faithful following of a set of rubrics. The workshop seeks to explore the presuppositions out of which each minister works and seeks to underpin an understanding of 'ministerial action' with a theological and spiritual background enabling its greater effectiveness which avoids unnecessary and unhelpful inelegances.
